

Take Control...

of Your Outdoor Living Space

Rain or shine, the new Equinox Louvered Roof system creates an outdoor living space that allows you to take control of when and how you enjoy the outdoors. For more than 50 years, Amerimax Building Products, Inc. has helped homeowners realize more value, space, and enjoyment from their homes by creating desirable and stylish outdoor living spaces enjoyed by all. The revolutionary Equinox Louvered Roofing system continues this tradition by combining style and function to give you control .

Style

The Equinox Louvered Roof system transforms any exterior space into an enjoyable and versatile outdoor living space.

Available in white and sandstone, the Equinox Louvered Roof system enhances outdoor living areas such as patios, courtyards, outdoor kitchens, swimming pools, spas, and much more.

Function

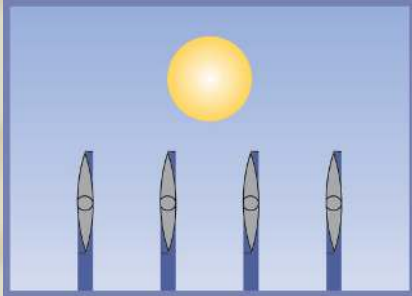

Units can be free-standing or added to existing structures to enhance any area requiring sun and weather control.

Louvers can be positioned anywhere within their range of motion for the exact amount of protection or ventilation desired, all at the touch of a button.
